DEAD RESULT OF SHOCK RECEIVED

Alva Thompson Succumbed at Home of Ed L. Beer in West Fifth Street Sunday Evening.

WAS INJURED AT FACTORY

Board From Frizzer Struck Man in Abdomen While Working in Front of Machine.

Alva Thompson, age forty-eight years, died at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed L. Beer in West Fifth street Sunday evening at 9:10 o'clock, as a result of injuries received in the Francis Brothers factory Saturday evening.

Thompson was sawing out a board on a frizzer about ten minutes before closing time Saturday evening when the saw became clogged and threw the board back striking the workman in the abdomen and knocking him down. The injured man was immediately taken to his boarding house which was not far distant, and a physician summoned. The doctor did not think the injury one that would result in death but did all within his power to relieve the suffering man.

Thompson seemed to be much improved Sunday, and when several of the men with whom he worked, called to learn of his condition, he recognized all of them and his mind seemed to be in a normal condition. After supper the man grew worse and the end came at ten minutes after nine.

The deceased had been in the employ of the Francis Brothers for twenty years and had been working in the new factory here since it was erected. His health had been poor for a number of years, having been troubled with asthma and a weak heart. At various times recently he had been compelled to stop work for a few days. It is thought by the attending physician that death was due more to the shock that his nervous system received than to the injury itself.

This is the first serious accident that has ever occurred in the factories owned and operated by Francis Brothers. The remains were shipped to Cincinnati this morning. Herman Sanders, foreman of the local factory and another one of the employees accompanied them. The family of the deceased was telegraphed immediately after the death and they answered that the remains be shipped to Cincinnati at once.

The deceased is survived by a wife and two sons and three daughters, all of whom live in Cincinnati.

BY THE WAYSIDE

There was one fellow that joined the "drys" in a spectacular manner Saturday night. He was standing on the corner near the Rush county National bank when the Salvation Army came along and opened their usual evening services. The old fellow was about three-fourths "whiffy" and when they extended the invitation he came forward and stood with head bared. While they prayed and rejoiced that a sinner had quit his evil life the fellow kept waving back and forth under the load he was carrying. When they finished and he was given the right hand of fellowship he reached into his pocket and taking a pint of whiskey therefrom he dashed it on the stone pavement. Hurrahs and hallelujahs followed. The convert was evidently satisfied to suffer the usual morning headache that follows a drunk without the usual "eye opener" and pain killer.

OPERATION WAS NECESSARY

Little Girl Had a Grain of Pop Corn in Her Ear.

Dr. E. I. Wooden was called to Manilla Saturday to remove a grain of pop corn from the ear of Glorine English. It was thrown in her ear several days ago and did not give her any pain until Saturday. An anesthetic had to be administered.

TRAGIC ELEMENT OF CRUCIFIXION

Described in Dramatic Manner by Yeuell at Christian Church
Last Night.

IMMENSE CROWDS ALL DAY

One Hundred and Five Additions
Made to the Church in Two Weeks.

One hundred and five additions to the church is the direct result thus far of the Yeuell meetings at the Main Street Christian Church. The whole church is rejoicing and enthusiastic over the splendid success of the meetings. Yesterday, in spite of the continuous downpour of rain, was a great day in the revival and the services were all attended by big audiences, including the bible school, where over three hundred were present. At all the regular services new members were received into the church. Evangelists Yeuell and Rogers did great work.

In the morning Mr. Yeuell spoke on the mission of the church, pointing out that the church did not exist simply as a benevolent institution, or a social or educational organization, but its primary work was that of soul saving, and any church which has lost its evangelistic spirit, has lost its real mission in the world.

In the afternoon the auditorium was filled at the great men's meeting, the audience overflowing into the Sunday school room, making a crowd of men equal to those of the big union meetings in spite of the inclement day. Mr. Yeuell's lecture on "The Man With His Hair Cut Short," was masterly in its descriptive and dramatic power showing the virtues and vices of the strong man Samson and emphasizing the elements that make today for weakness or manly strength and failure and success in life.

A great audience gathered last night to hear Mr. Yeuell on "Too Late to Save Jesus." The evangelist was at his best in this sermon and the description of the crucifixion of Jesus and the tragic elements of Calvary made a powerful impression on the audience. There will be no service tonight, but the meetings will be resumed tomorrow night and will continue until Friday night when Mr. Yeuell closes his services here with an illustrated lecture on "Ben Hur." Mr. Rogers sang in fine voice and expression last night "The Ninety and Nine." Tomorrow night Evangelist Yeuell will preach on "The Unpardonable Sin."

CONDUCTS ROUND TABLE.

Evangelist and Mrs. Herbert Yeuell went to Indianapolis today, where Mr. Yeuell will conduct a Round Table Talk on Evangelism before the Indianapolis Ministerial Association at the Denison hotel.

Exhaustive tests have proved the new torpedo nets of the navy able to withstand the attacks of torpedoes fired at the highest speed yet reached.

SAID HER COUSIN WAS A DUCHESS

Dr. Howard Told How His Second Wife Was Chummy With Manchester's Pride.

DISCLAIMED HIS CHILDREN

Said Two Belonged to His Father and
Two to His Brother-in-Law.

The Howard will case, venued here from Hancock county, is still grinding away in the circuit court, and the interest increases as the trial progresses.

W. B. Cayler, a photographer of Greenfield, was on the stand this morning and gave an interesting bit of history regarding the man whom the plaintiffs are trying to prove was of unsound mind. He said Dr. Howard told him his second wife was a first cousin of the Duchess of Manchester, and that the two were playmates and chums. He said they looked so much alike that it was next to impossible to tell them apart. On several occasions, he said, they would exchange clothing and often in this way "fooled" their parents.

Dr. Howard said that when he found his wife was ill, he spent thousands of dollars in foreign countries trying to find a cure. She died of appendicitis. One of Dr. Howard's pet hobbies was cremation. He had his second wife's remains cremated and gave orders that in event he died their ashes were to be "mingled," and after they were shaken together, placed in a vault in Ohio.

During the course of the introduction of the testimony, it was found that Dr. Howard often made the statement that the four children bearing his name were not his children; that two of them were his father's and two were children of his brother-in-law, Fletcher Wills of Indianapolis.

George Curtis, violinist at the English theater in Indianapolis testified that he was in the hospital when Dr. Howard was confined there and saw his third wife, May Donelle Howard come in with a will which she gave to the doctor saying: "It is alright this time." Dr. Howard's son was also there and heard her make this remark.

GUESTS AT HOTELS WILL BE ROPED OUT

Instead of Being Roped in According to the Order of the State Inspector.

DEPUTY WAS HERE THIS WEEK

Those of the Rushville hotels that have not complied with the State law requiring their equipment with certain appliances for the safety of their guests in case of fire have received notification from State Inspector Blakely to do so at once.

As a result of the visit to this city of Deputy Inspector John Fitzgibbons this week, the local hotels are in receipt of orders from Mr. Blakely to place in each of the rooms knotted ropes attached to chains firmly imbedded in the wall, of sufficient length to reach the ground. They are also ordered to post in conspicuous places notices giving the location of the fire escapes. Besides this red lights must be burned at the head of all stairways leading to exits.

WANTED TO CUT OFFICER IN TWO

Kentuckian Attacked City Marshal
With an Ugly Looking Dagger
Saturday Night.

HAD OTHER WEAPONS TO USE

When Struck on Head With Mace he Fought Back With Another
Knife and Ice Pick.

City Marshal Price came near being cut into ribbons late Saturday night by a man, evidently bent on murder. The officer was quelling a disturbance at the Salvation Army street services when a man named Alex Roam, who removed here from Kentucky, was overheard to say with an oath, that he intended cutting the marshal in two. He made a getaway, but was later found by the officer in West Second street.

It seems that the Kentuckian had an old grudge against Price which had its beginning on the night of the last election when he was ordered home, being in an intoxicated condition. When Price accosted the fellow Saturday night he resented it and promptly whipped out a five-inch blade dagger. He made a wild plunge at Price and the officer protected himself with his arm by warding off the blows. As he made the second plunge the marshal pulled out his mace and struck the fellow over the left eye. This stunned him and as he fell forward his dagger struck a wall and the knife blade was broken off.

While attempting to struggle to his feet he pulled forth another knife and made for the official, fighting all the time like a tiger. Price struck him again with his mace, but all the time slaying out of the way of the vicious swipes the fellow was making with the dangerous looking weapon. It was thought that he had become pacified and the officer began to talk to the man crazed with drink and determined on killing him. In an instant he was on his feet again and this time he brought from his pocket an ugly-looking instrument in the form of an ice pick. Another lick on the head with the mace and the fighting was all taken out of the Kentuckian. He was lodged in jail by the officer.

Roam is a man of family and lives in East Tenth street. He is employed at the Adams Produce poultry house as a chicken picker.

STATISTICS OF CATHOLICS

Regarding the Diocese of Indianapolis in Official Directory.

Advance sheets of the Official Catholic Directory, published by M. H. Wiltzius Co., Milwaukee, Wis., give the following statistics regarding the Indianapolis diocese: Population (Catholic) about 119,000; bishops, 2; clergy, 222; churches, 188; colleges and academies, 12; parishes with schools, 108; children attending, 15,000; orphan asylums, 3; orphans 159; charitable institutions, 14.

By means of the proposed wireless station on the top of the Washington Monument it is hoped to keep in communication with war ships within a distance of 3000 miles.

Attention has recently been directed to the number of trees in Glasgow which are in a dying state, their sickly condition being attributed to smoke.

A RIDE ON THE WATER WAGON

Will be the Subject of Lecture to be Delivered Next Sunday by Clinton N. Howard.

AT THE MEN'S BIG MEETING

Is Heartily Endorsed by Dr. Wilbur
Chapman as One of the Greatest Speakers of the Day.

The next regular number of the Men's Big Meetings under the auspices of the interdenominational committee will be held next Sunday at 2:30 o'clock. Mr. Clinton N. Howard of Rochester, N. Y., traveler, lecturer, preacher and reformer will lecture on "A Ride on the Water Wagon." Mr. Howard has delivered this lecture in thirty-two States within the past year. He lectured on this same subject in New York City yesterday afternoon and has delivered over three hundred lectures in his home city in the past ten years. An announcement that he is to speak has filled the largest churches and public halls numerous times. His addresses are fiery, epigrammatic, powerful and eloquent.

Dr. Wilbur Chapman says: "I consider him one of the greatest speakers of the day. Three times he thrilled our great audiences—Civic Temperance and International Bible Conference. All agree with me in saying that of all the men we have ever had, none have been more highly satisfactory. We eagerly await his return next year. Mr. Howard is great as an orator; great as an entertainer; great as an instructor, and sincere as the prophets of old."

BOLD BURGLAR GOT MONEY

Stole Forty - Five Dollars From Mrs.
Marie McIntosh's Room.

Mrs. Marie McIntosh, daughter of Frank Mullin of this city, was robbed of $45 by a burglar Saturday night. The thief broke into her room at her boarding house in North Meridian street in Indianapolis.

Lieutenant Governor Frank J. Hall spent Sunday in this city.

GAVE DECISION FAVORING DRYS

Special Judge Young Held That the Circuit Court Did Not Have Jurisdiction in Matter.

APPEAL WAS OUT OF ORDER

Commissioners' Order is an Interlocutory One and Appeal Can Not be Taken From It.

The wets "drew blood" today in the court proceedings and will have to go back and start "at first" again. Special Judge George Young, who heard the county option election matter Saturday, today gave a decision favorable to the drys and upheld the order of the county commissioners.

The case grew out of the appeal made by the wets to take the issue to the circuit court. The drys objected in the commissioners' court and asked to have the motion for appeal dismissed, declaring it was irregular under the law. Judge Young, in his findings, said that the circuit court had no jurisdiction at this stage and the matter must remain in the hands of the commissioners. He said their order was an interlocutory order and not a final order. The final order comes, he said, in the recording of the result of the election. If it is not properly recorded, then, and not until then, could anything of a legal nature stand in the way. In event it was not properly entered, then an appeal could be taken and a new election ordered.

Attorney Titsworth prepared an extended brief which was submitted to the judge.

NEW FEATURES ARE ADDED TO OLD STORY

By Evangelist Yeuell When he Lectured on "Man With His Hair Cut Short," Sunday.

AT MAMMOTH MEN'S MEETING

Several new features and new life was added to the old subject "Samson Shorn of His Locks," by Evangelist Yeuell at the mammoth men's meeting at the Main Street Christian church Sunday afternoon. His topic for the lecture was "The Man With His Hair Cut Short," in which he practically depicted the best and most interesting of all Bible stories, that of the strong man Samson and the way in which he was robbed of his great power. The wonderful episode was related with such earnestness and intensity that it seemed to bring the incident down into everyday life among men on earth. Few who attended will ever forget the message brought by the evangelist and how he applied the Bible story to the wrongs and evils practiced by

The musical part of the program rendered by the quartette composed of Mrs. M. R. McDaniel, Miss Edith Holden, B. F. Miller and Jesse Pugh and also the solos by Elsworth Rogers and Jesse Pugh were far above the average.

Rushville People Receiving the Full Benefit.

There has been many cases like the following in Rushville. Everyone relates the experience of people we know. These plain, straightforward statements will do much toward relieving the suffering of thousands. Such testimony will be read with interest by many people.

Mrs. J. T. Champion, 618 West Fifth Street, Rushville, Ind., says: "After recovering from a severe illness my husband was afflicted with kidney trouble. He was subject to attacks of backache and a lameness across the hips. The kidney secretions also caused him much annoyance by their frequent passages and added to all this were occasional headaches and dizzy spells. He finally began using Doan's Kidney Pills, which he procured at F. B. Johnson & Co.'s drug store and the improvement in his condition was soon noticeable. The lameness was removed from his back and the kidney difficulties corrected. We consider Doan's Kidney Pills a most reliable remedy."

REMEMBER THE MAINE TODAY

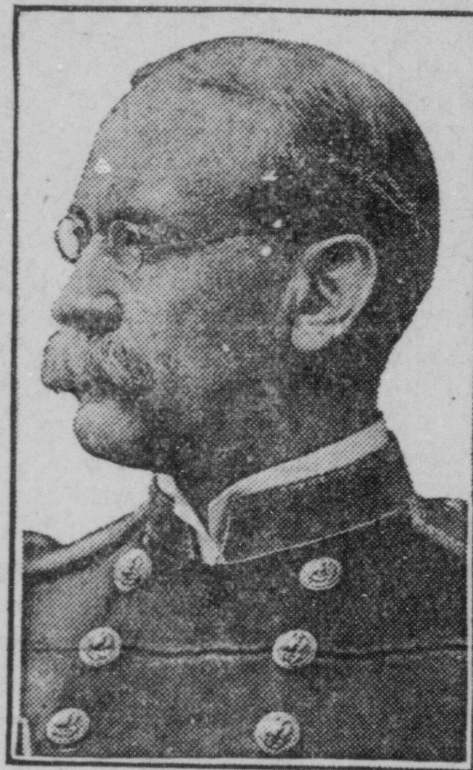

Formal Tribute to Battleship's Dead

'T WAS JUST ELEVEN YEARS AGO

Anniversary of Havana Harbor Disaster Observed With Formal Exercises in the National Capital Today—Graves of Ill-Fated Crew in Arlington Cemetery Decorated by Patriotic Societies—Admiral Sigsbee Principal Speaker at Memorial Services.

Washington, Feb. 15.—The national capital "remembered the Maine" on two occasions today and will pay further tribute this evening to the memory of the men of the battleship which sank in Havana harbor eleven years ago. Three separate celebrations of "Maine day" were planned by the Maine Memorial Association. Many persons will participate in all three ceremonies.

The day was opened by mass at St. Patrick's cathedral in memory of the Roman Catholics who lost their lives in the disaster. Among the priests who officiated at the services was the Rev. Eugene Hannan, who is a personal friend of Father Chadwick, chaplain of the Maine, and represented him at the services.

This afternoon the members of the association, with members of the Spanish War Veterans, the Army and Navy union and other patriotic organizations, made a pilgrimage to the "Maine section" of Arlington cemetery, where the recovered remains of the men of the Maine are buried. Many well known navy and army officers made the pilgrimage. Rear Admiral Charles D. Sigsbee, retired, who commanded the Maine when she sank, represented the navy, and General Andrew S. Burt, retired, represented the army.

Wreaths for Maine's Dead.

The ceremony of placing floral tributes on the giant anchor of the Maine, which stands among the graves, was performed by ladies of the Maine association. The pieces included two wreaths from President Roosevelt, one from the National Woman's Relief corps, another from the Phil Sheridan Woman's Relief corps and others. There was a firing party of troops of the Thirtieth United States cavalry, and a bugler closed the exercises with "taps."

The speakers for the meeting this evening in the First Presbyterian church will include Rear Admiral Sigsbee, Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson, General Andrew S. Burt, Colonel John McElroy, Rev. Father Eugene A. Hannan, Rev. Donald MacLeod, pastor of the church, and others. Dr. Thomas Calver will read an original poem on "The Men of the Maine."

LOST ON LAKE

Fisherman Carried Out at Buffalo When the Ice Broke Up.

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 15.—A score of fishermen and their dogs were carried out into Lake Erie when the icefield was set in motion by a shift in the wind. All were rescued except Joseph Gatusky. The man and his dog team are missing and are no doubt lost, as the ice was not more than five inches thick and was so rotten that it must have broken upon reaching the open sea.

Jealousy Ends in Murder.

Indianapolis, Feb. 15.—In a quarrel which ended a birthday visit made by J. Oliver Bradley of Noblesville to Indianapolis, Bradley attacked his wife with a pocketknife, inflicting wounds in her neck which caused her death a few hours later at the city hospital. The police believe jealousy prompted the husband's assault. Bradley was arrested.

RARE PHENOMENON

For the Third Time in History Ice Checks Niagara's Flow.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Feb. 15.—Only a tiny rivulet, not deep nor swift enough to carry a pulp log over the brink, is flowing over the American side of Niagara Falls. A strong north-east wind which has blown since Friday has held back the water and allowed the ice to gain a foothold. A great wall of ice runs from the head of Goat Island to the American mainland, through which only tiny streams are able to trickle. Only the very apex of the Canadian fall is left, and that is robbed of half of its flow. The gorge below is choked and the rapids have lost their fury, while the whirlpool is barely in motion.

This is only the third time that this combination of wind and ice has thus affected the falls since the white man came here. The other occasions were on March 29, 1848, and March 22, 1903.

THE PRESIDENT ASKS AID FOR LITTLE ONES

Helpless Children Subject of Special Message.

Washington, Feb. 15.—President Roosevelt transmitted today to the two houses of congress a special message recommending legislation requested by the conference on the care of dependent children held in Washington Jan. 25 and 26.

The aim of the friends of the dependent children is the enactment of legislation providing for their care. This aim is heartily indorsed by the president. He is thoroughly in favor of bills pending in the senate and house of representatives providing such care for the dependent children in the District of Columbia and the territories, the only sections of the country for which congress may enact such laws. These bills will serve as examples for the rest of the country, it is hoped.

Before the conference at its meeting in the White House on Jan. 25 and subsequently the president expressed the greatest interest in its work. The conference, which was composed of well known philanthropists and sociologists from all parts of the United States, assembled in Washington at his invitation, and its sessions were formally opened by him in a long address.

The president gave his opinion that there could be no more important subject, from the standpoint of the nation, than the care of "the interests of those children whom cruel misfortune has handicapped at the very outset of their lives." He referred to the orphan, the crippled child, the child worker and the child temporarily parted from its parents by circumstances.

TUBERCULOSIS EXHIBIT

Interesting Object Lesson Opened in Philadelphia Today.

Philadelphia, Feb. 15.—After attracting 567,065 visitors in New York city the tuberculosis show was moved to this city and was opened to the public today. The exhibit is designed to call forcibly to the notice of the public the dangers of consumption and the modern means of combating the disease.

In New York the exhibit was housed in the building of the American Museum of Natural History. Its Philadelphia resting place is the Robert Morris building. It is expected that at least 500,000 persons will visit the exhibit, which formed part of the recent international tuberculosis congress in Washington. It will be placed on exhibition in various parts of the country.

Goethals Will Explain.

Washington, Feb. 15.—Colonel Goethals, engineer-in-charge of the Panama canal work, will appear before the sub-committee of the house committee on appropriations this week. Colonel Goethals will be questioned regarding the estimates submitted by the Isthmian canal commission and will give further testimony of peculiar interest because of the recent agitation over the so-called Panama scandal.

CONGRESS SEES NEED OF ACTION

End of Session Drawing Near and Much to Be Done.

PROMISE OF A BUSY WEEK

Appropriation Bills Are Pressing and Other Matters Demand Attention

With the End of the Session Rapidly Approaching—Night Sessions Will Soon Become a Necessity in the Senate, Which Is Far Behind in Its Program—While the House Is in Better Shape, It Has Little Time to Spare.

Washington, Feb. 15.—During the present week congress will give all possible attention to appropriation bills, as, it has become a pressing necessity that both houses should act promptly if the measures are to become laws in the few days that are left of the present congress. The senate took up the naval bill today and, when that is disposed of, the postoffice bill will receive attention.

The senate is so far behind in the consideration of these measures that night sessions will soon become a necessity. The house is in better shape with respect to the supply measures, but has little time to spare.

Appropriation Bills Press.

The work on the Indian bill was resumed today. It will be followed either by the consular and diplomatic bill or the fortification appropriation bill. If the river and harbor maintenance and emergency bill is reported during the week it will follow.

Aside from the appropriation bills the senate has its hands full, and it is probable that early attention will be given to the Canadian boundary waterways treaty and the Newfoundland treaty. There is still some hope of disposing of the waterways agreement before the adjournment of the session. The Panama and Columbia treaties still remain to be acted upon, but the indications are that they may not be disposed of until after March 4. The nominations to which there are objections also will go over, with the result that the incoming president will have an opportunity to fill the places with men of his own selection.

The house gave some time today to the consideration of the bill giving separate statehood to New Mexico and Arizona. The indications are that the measure will be passed by that body. The prospects for the bill in the senate are by no means good.

The bill removing the constitutional obstructions in the way of Senator Knox's becoming secretary of state also will receive the attention of the house during the week and probably acted upon. Undeniably some of the members, and especially some of the Democratic members, consider the measure objectionable, but they have practically agreed to place no serious obstruction in its way.

Memorial Services.

Three members of congress who died during the first session of the present congress were eulogized in a special session of the house of representatives Sunday. They were Senator William Pinkney Whyte of Maryland, who died March 17; Representative William H. Parker of South Dakota, who died on June 26, and Representative Abraham L. Brick of Indiana, who died on April 7 last. Fifteen addresses were delivered, Representative Overstreet of Indiana presiding.

The first eulogies were on Mr. Parker. After a brief recess tributes to Senator Whyte, who was referred to as "the grand old man of Maryland," were taken up. Another short recess was followed by addresses on the life, character and public work of the late Representative Abraham Lincoln Brick of Indiana.

Mr. Barnhart of Indiana read the poem, "Lead, Kindly Light," and asked that while he did so his colleagues stand. Others who eulogized Mr. Brick were Representatives Chaney, Dixon, Holliday and Gilhams of Indiana, Bennett of New York, Lloyd of Missouri, and Hamilton of Michigan.

SOCIETY NEWS

The Ladies Sewing Circle of the Catholic church will meet at the home of Mrs. Charles Moorman in North Perkins street, Wednesday afternoon.

The officers of the Social club are planning an elaborate social function in the dance they will give the night of Washington's birthday, February 22d.

Mrs. Alvan Moor and Mrs. Sarah Posey will entertain the Ladies Aid Society of the St. Paul's M. E. church at the home of Mrs. Moor in North Main street Tuesday afternoon.

Greensburg News: The News is in receipt of a letter from Miss Myrtle Borem of Rushville, which tells of the marriage of Chase Litteral and Miss Bonnie Black at the home of the bride's parents, Charles Black and wife of that city, Wednesday evening. The groom is a well known and respected young man of Rushville, and Miss Black is a charming young lady formerly a resident of this city.

E. O. Dale celebrated his eightieth birthday anniversary Saturday at his home in North Main street. Those who attended the dinner given in honor of the anniversary were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Mock, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Mock, John Dale Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Dale, Mr. and Mrs. George Looney, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. George Looney, Jr.

As prettily and cleverly conceived party as has been given in this city for some time was the Valentine card party at the home of Mrs. R. F. Scudder in Second street, Saturday evening. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. O. M. Dale and twelve young ladies and matrons were delightfully surprised and entertained. The game played, appropriate of the occasion, was hearts and honors of a cut glass tumbler and a heart shape box of bon-bons were given. Three rooms were tastefully decorated in keeping with the day, one in cupids of flaring red; another in hearts and the dining room was done in comic valentines, several hundred being used. Exquisite is the adjective for the description, in a word, of the dining room table decorations. Red streamers leading from a bank of

Here's Where the Fun Comes In

A traveling man was here last week and having closed his business transactions took a walk about the residence part of the city. Returning to the Windsor hotel he remarked to the clerk:

"See you have a city campaign on here."

"How's that?" came from the clerk.

"I say, I see where you have a campaign on here. And if I am any good at guessing I would lay odds that this fellow Yeuell will be easily elected mayor, or whatever he is running for. About half of the houses seem to have this picture in the windows."

It was a grinning clerk who explained that Yeuell was an evangelist and that the picture stunt was a new mode of advertising a revival

Colored Folks Celebrate

Rushville Denizens Pay Fitting Tribute to Lincoln, the Modern Moses of Their Race

The celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, conducted at the Second M. E. church, Friday night, was a very successful affair. Despite the bad, rainy weather, there was a good, appreciative audience present, entering finely into the feeling of the occasion.

Prof. Williams presided and eloquently stated the purpose of the occasion. As the program proceeded, his apt allusions and rare flashes of wit on introducing different participants drew forth rounds of applause.

The choir of the Second Baptist church furnished most of the music. Too much cannot be said in praise of this splendid aggregation of singers. They are all good readers of music, have fine voices and pour out their psalmody in rich, mellow cadence heard only in their native sweetness of the music of the colored race. This choir is easily a credit to the colored people of Rushville.

Rev. Andrew Shumake who discussed "Some Reasons Why the Colored People Should Cherish the Memory of Lincoln," was at his best. He showed that Lincoln's life in its relation to the colored people was analogous to that of Moses in its relation to the Hebrews of ancient Egypt. He was eloquent and forceful and his fine passages impressively dramatic. He spoke with a cogency and fervor that surprised even those who hear him quite frequently as many of them declared afterward that his speech was the finest effort of his life.

Rev. John H. Baker's discussion of "Lincoln as an Example of What May be Accomplished by Perseverance," was a surprise to his friends. He, too, seemed inspired by the occasion, and his speech was a good example of cogent reasoning, eloquently directed toward definite end.

H. L. Bundrant gave a "Short Biography of Lincoln's Life." He spoke with ease, and had memorized so much of dates, facts, details and episodes in Lincoln's life that his audience looked in surprise, and then gave him rounds of generous applause.

Joshua Brown read the Emancipation Proclamation, and Blaine Moore, an extract from Lincoln's second inaugural address. Both these young men read with good emphasis, ease, and composure. They are students of the high school and bid fair to become, some day, an honor to their people. They have it in their power, for perseverance, in the long run, wins against all odds.

J. W. Bundrant, another one of the colored students of the high school, delivered the Gettysburg address. This young man is giving attention to public speaking, and his work along this line was evident in his rendition. He spoke in good voice and his easy modulation and distribution of emphasis made his part especially effective.

Wilbur Taylor, Amy Moore, Matthew Easley, Earl Mabra and Arvalley Easley, students of Washington school, were also on the program. They recited well, and were liberally applauded. It was pleasing to see the broad smile of satisfaction upon Prof. Williams' face as his pupils, former and present ones, acquitted themselves so well. He is doing great work among his people here, has the affection of his pupils, and the confidence of his people, and is deserving of the highest commendation.

Three of the front seats of the church were reserved for the pupils of Washington school. They sang when the choir was at rest. They have excellent voices and have been well trained, and their rendition of patriotic songs was one of the most enjoyable features of the evening.

Rev. Leggett closed the evening's celebration with "A Plea for Southern Schools." He stirred the audience to a high pitch of enthusiasm as he recounted the changes that have gone on in the South under the stimulus of industry and education. He spoke with a dignity, grace and power, eminently fitting to the occasion. Indeed, his utterances seemed to have been inspired by the occasion and his effort was one real native eloquence.

A liberal collection was lifted for the education of the freedmen of the South, after which the audience was dismissed by Rev. Shumake.

The celebration was one long to be remembered by the colored people of our city, and has left behind it a residue of good and wholesome influences.

AMUSEMENTS

A swell story film will be shown at the Vaudeville tonight entitled "In the Golden Days or a Story of the Days of '49." It has to do with the struggles, fortunes and misfortune of the gold seekers in California. Miss Gregg will sing "Roses Kissed by the Sunshine," a pretty and catchy illustrated ballad.

"Sweet (?) Liberty" and "Jean Chouas" are the titles of the subjects to be shown at the Grand theater tonight. The first picture depicts a story of prison life which is interesting at every point. "Jean Chouas" is an episode of the Vendean war with a love story intermingled. Miss Iva Brown will sing "I Love You More Than Any Boy Loves Any Other Girl."

Congressman James E. Watson said that in his opinion "The Man From Home," which will be in Connersville Wednesday night, is the best show of its character that he ever saw. He told his friends here that if they had the opportunity to see it, to do so by all means. Quite a number of them will heed his advice and will go. The comedy is by Booth Tarkington, one of the ablest men Indiana ever produced as a writer of books and plays. The play had a long run in Chicago and New York City.

WASHBURN-CROSBY'S
GOLD MEDAL FLOUR

A Gentleman From Mississippi

By THOMAS A. WISE
Novelized From the Play by Frederick R. Toombs

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY THOMAS A. WISE

CHAPTER XXVI. THE BATTLES OF WASHINGTON.

AT twenty minutes after 12 Senator Langdon and Secretary Haines were still undisturbed by any move on the part of Peabody and Stevens, who maintained a silence that to Haines was distinctly ominous. His experience at the capitol had taught him that when the senate machine was quiet it was time for some one to get out from under.

Miss Williams, the naval committee's stenographer, entered.

"Senator Langdon," she said, "Senator Peabody and Senator Stevens are in committee room 6, and they told me to tell you that they'd be—I can't say it. Please, sir, I—"

"D—d," interpolated Langdon, laughing.

"Yes, sir, that's it. They'll be—that—if they come in here at 12:30. You must come to them, they say."

"Tell the gentlemen I'm sitting here with my hat on the back of my head smoking a good sea-gar with nails driven through both shoes into the floor—and looking at the clock."

At 12:25 Senator Stevens entered.

"I came to warn you, Langdon," he said, "that Senator Peabody's patience is nearly exhausted. You must come to see him at once if you expect the south to get a naval base at Altacoola or anywhere else. If you do not agree to take his advice this naval bill and any other that you are interested in now or in future will be trampled underfoot in the senate. Mississippi will have no use for a senator who cannot produce results in Washington, and that will prove the bitterest lesson you have ever learned."

"I'm waiting for Peabody here, Stevens."

"Oh, ridiculous! Of course he's not coming. Why, Langdon, he's the king

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and he proves it by his famous little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—coaxes blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasingly delightful. Gently though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure. If it's painful periods with women, same cause. If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Bruse your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend

WOMAN'S BEAUTY

It Can Never be Perfect Without Luxuriant Hair.

A head of luxuriant hair is sure to be attractive. But nature has not crowned every woman with glorious hair. Some very lovable women she has treated rather scantily in this respect.

For instance, there are tens of thousands of women in America today, who have harsh, faded and lusterless hair, who are unattractive simply because they do not know that nowadays even the whims of nature can be overruled by the genius of science.

If you are a woman without beautiful hair, do not permit your attractions to be hidden because of this slight misfortune.

Go today to F. B. Johnson & Co. and buy a large bottle of Persian Sage for 50 cents, use it each night, and you will notice the harsh, repulsive hair disappear, and in its place will come soft, silky, bright and luxuriant hair.

Persian Sage is guaranteed by F. B. Johnson & Co. to cure dandruff, itching of the scalp, and stop falling hair in two weeks, or money back.

of the senate. He has the biggest men

"He's got one minute left," observed Langdon, looking at the clock, "but he'll come. I trust Peabody more than the best clock made at a time like this when—"

The figure of the senior senator from Pennsylvania appeared in the doorway.

"Good day, Senator Langdon," he remarked icily.

"Same to you. Have a see-gar, senator," said Langdon. He turned and winked significantly at Haines.

The three senators seated themselves. "I suppose you wouldn't consider yourself so important, Langdon, if you knew that we now find we can get another member of the naval affairs committee over to our side for Altacoola," began Peabody. "That gives us a majority of the committee without your vote."

"That wouldn't prevent me from making a minority report for Gulf City and explaining why I made that report, would it?" the Mississippian asked blandly.

Peabody and Stevens both knew that it wouldn't. Stevens exchanged glances with "the boss of the senate" and in low voice began making to Langdon a proposition to which Peabody's assent had been gained.

"Langdon, we would like to be alone," and he nodded toward Haines. "Sorry can't oblige, senator," Langdon replied. "Bud and I together make up the senator from Mississippi."

"All right. What I want to say is this: The president is appointing a commission to investigate the condition of the unemployed. The members are to go to Europe, five or six countries, and look into conditions there, leisurely, of course, so as to formulate a piece of legislation that will solve the existing problems in this country. A most generous expense account will be allowed by the government. A member can take his family. A son, for instance, could act as financial secretary under liberal pay."

"I've heard of that commission," said Langdon.

"Well, Senator Peabody has the naming of two senators who will go on that commission, and I suggested that your character and ability would make you."

"Good glory," exclaimed Langdon, "you mean that my character and ability would make me something or other if I kept my mouth shut in the senate this afternoon! Stevens, I've been surprised so many times since I came to the capital that it doesn't affect me any more. I'm just amused at your offer or Senator Peabody's."

"I want to tell you two senators that there's only one thing that I want in Washington—and you haven't offered it to me yet. When you do I'll do business with you."

"What's that? Speak out, man!" said Peabody quickly.

"A square deal for the people of the United States."

"Good Lord!" exclaimed "the boss of the senate." "Is this Washington or is it heaven?"

"It is not heaven, senator," put in Haines.

"Man alive," cried Peabody, "I've been in Washington so long that—"

"So long you've forgotten that the American people really exist," retorted Langdon, "and there are more like you in the senate, all because the voters have no chance to choose their own senators. The public in most states has to take the kind of a senator that the legislature, made up mostly of politicians, feels like making them take. You, Peabody, wouldn't be in the senate today if the voters had anything to say about it."

The Pennsylvania shrugged his shoulders.

"And now I'll tell you honorable senators," went on Langdon, thoroughly aroused, "something to surprise you. I have discovered that you were not working for yourselves alone in the Altacoola deal, but that you intend to turn your land over to the Standard Steel company at a big profit as soon as this naval base bill is passed. Then that company will squeeze the government for the best part of the hundred millions that are to be spent."

The senator sank back in his chair and gazed at his two opponents.

Those two statesmen jumped to their feet.

"Come, Stevens, let him do what he will. We cannot stay here to be insulted by the ravings of a madman," cried the Pennsylvania. But he brought his associate to a standstill midway to the door. "By the way, Langdon, what is it you are going to do in the senate this afternoon?" he asked. "You said you were going to make us honest against our will. You know you can't do anything."

Bud Haines turned his face toward the speaker and grinned broadly, to the senator's intense discomfort.

"I'll do more than that," announced Langdon, rising and pounding a fist into his open hand. "I'll make you and Stevens more popular than you ever were in your lives before."

"Bah!" shouted Peabody.

"I'll do even more yet. I'm going to make you generous—patriots. And, I regret to say, I'll give you the chance to make the hits of your careers."

The polished hypocrites looked at him, too astonished to move.

"How? What?" they gasped.

Swept on by his own enthusiasm and the force of his own courageous honesty, the voice of the southerner rose to oratorical height.

"This afternoon," he exclaimed, "when the naval base committee makes its report I will rise in my place and declare that for once in the history of the senate men have been found who place the interests of the government they serve above any chance of pecuniary reward. These men are the members of the naval base committee."

"With this idea in view, realizing that dishonest men would try to make money out of the government, these members of the naval base committee, after they settled on Altacoola, went out quietly and secured control of all the land that will be needed for the naval base, and these men see this at a very nominal figure. Now they are ready to turn over their land to the government at exactly what they paid for it without a cent of profit.

"Then they're going to sit up over there in that senate. They're going to realize that a new kind of politics has arrived in Washington—the kind that I and lots of others always thought there was here."

"And, gentlemen," he advanced on his colleagues triumphantly—"when I, Senator Langdon of Mississippi, your creation in politics, have finished that speech I dare one of you to get up and deny a word!"

"The boss of the senate" and his satellite were dumfounded. Firmly believing that Langdon could find no way to pass the bill for Altacoola and yet spoil their crooked scheme, they were totally unprepared for any such de-nouement. To think that a simple, old fashioned planter from the cotton fields of Mississippi could originate such a plan to outwit the two ablest political tricksters in the senate!

Langdon eyed his colleagues triumphantly.

Peabody, however, was thinking quickly. He was never beaten until the last vote was counted on a roll call. He knew that, no matter how apparently insurmountable an opposition was, a way to overcome it might often be found by the man who exercises strong self control and a trained brain. This corrupt victor in scores of bitter political engagements on the battlefield of Washington was now in his most dangerous mood. He would marshal all his forces. The man to defeat him now must defeat the entire senate machine and the allies it could gain in an emergency; he must overcome the power of Standard Steel; he must fight the resourceful brain of the masterful Peabody himself.

Peabody whispered to Stevens, "We must pretend to be beaten."

Then, the Pennsylvania advanced, smiling, to Langdon and held out his hand.

"Senator Langdon," he said, "I'm beaten. You've beaten the leader of the senate, something difficult to be-

"Senator Langdon, I'm beaten." Heve. What's more, you've given me the chance of a lifetime to become known as a public benefactor. As soon as you've finished your speech in the senate I will get up and make another one—to second yours. Here's my hand. Anything you may ever want out of Peabody in the future shall be yours for the asking."

Langdon refused to grasp the proffered hand.

Senator Stevens made a show of protesting against his superior's seeming surrender.

"But," he objected, "look here!"—

Peabody turned upon him instantly.

The Pennsylvania drew Stevens into committee room 6 and, ordering the stenographer to leave, drew up chairs where both could sit, facing the door.

"We've thrown dust in that old gander's eyes," whispered Peabody. "It's now ten after 1. He is to be recognized to make his speech at 3:30. That gives us two hours and twenty minutes—"

"Yes, but for what?" asked Stevens excitedly. "I've been trying myself to think of something. What will you do—what can you do?"

"The boss of the senate" smiled patronizingly on the senior senator from Mississippi, as though amused and scornful of his limitations as a strategist, as a tenacious fighter. Then his jaw set hard, and his brows contracted.

"I will not do anything. I cannot do anything"—he hesitated a full ten seconds—"but Jake Steinert can."

Stevens' hands twitched nervously.

"And," continued Peabody, "I'm expecting a phone call from him any moment. I told him this morning that he might be able to make $1,000 before night if—"

The telephone bell at the desk interrupted him.

Peabody leaned over and eagerly clutched the receiver.

The senior senator from Mississippi jerked himself to his feet. He stood at a window and looked out over the roof tops of the city.

LEFT ON HER DOORSTEP FOR THIS MOTHER

Mrs. A. G. Tison, of Livermore, Cal., writes: "I picked up from my doorstep one day a little book in which I soon became very much interested. My little girl of five years of age had been troubled for a long time with loss of appetite, extreme nervousness and undue fatigue. She was all run-down and in a very delicate condition. This little book was very comprehensively written, and told of the new method of extracting the medicinal elements of the cod's liver from the oil, eliminating the obnoxious oil which is so hard for children to take. 'Just the thing,' said I, 'for my little daughter,' and I immediately went for a bottle of Vinol. It helped her wonderfully. She has gained rapidly in flesh and strength, and she does not take cold half so easily. 'I am extremely grateful for the good it has done her, and I hope other mothers who have weak, delicate or ailing children will be benefited by my experience and just give Vinol a trial.'"

FAMILY SCRAP BEFORE ARMY RETIRING BOARD

Colonel Tucker's Case Up For Consideration Today.

Chicago, Feb. 15.—The meeting of the army retiring board which began in this city today will in all likelihood determine the fate of Colonel William F. Tucker, whose troubles with his wife have engaged the attention of army gossips for a long time. Colonel Tucker occupies a responsible post in the army, that of paymaster general of the department of the lakes. He is at odds with his wife, the daughter of the late General John A. Logan, who was the Republican candidate for vice president in 1884. Friends of Colonel Tucker declare that Mrs. Logan is the chief cause of his troubles and that the case is one of "too much mother-in-law."

Secretary of War Wright has given permission for Mrs. Tucker to appear with her attorney before the army retiring board. This unusual action is expected to create a sensation.

Colonel Tucker, who has been an invalid for years, is seeking retirement with the rank of colonel and the retired pay of that rank. Mrs. Logan and the colonel's wife declare his conduct has been such that he is not entitled to honorable retirement, and they are seeking his summary dismissal from the army. Charges of misconduct in the Philippines made against Colonel Tucker two years ago by his female relatives were not sustained by the army authorities, and Colonel Tucker retaliated with a suit for divorce. In October of last year Mrs. Tucker had her husband arrested in Chicago on a charge of abandonment, but the proceedings were dropped.

POLITICAL WOUNDS HEALING

Opposing Factions in Cuban Politics Getting Together.

Havana, Feb. 15.—At the close of a long conference at the palace Sunday night between President Gomez and Vice President Zayas for the purpose of deciding upon terms for the fusion of their rival factions of the Liberal party, Secretary Gomez announced that a definite agreement had been reached and that a committee had been appointed to arrange the details. This agreement is considered of the utmost importance in view of recent reports that irreconcilable differences had arisen between the Miguelista and Zayaista sections of the party.

MILLION OF LIVES LOST

The Awful Toll Collected by Consumption.

If people could only understand that Catarrh is an internal scrofula—that nothing applied externally does much good—they would not need to be warned so often about this fatal disease, which, when neglected, invariably ends up in Consumption, at the cost of millions of lives every year. Yet Catarrh is easily cured if the right treatment is employed.

Catarrh is caused by germs in the blood which circulate through the entire system. External remedies give but temporary ease. Although the effects are often seen in the form of pimples, rash, eczema or dry scaly skin, the trouble is internal, and can never be cured by external remedies.

The only way to cure catarrh is by employing a medicine which is absorbed and carried by the blood to all parts of the system, so that the mucous membrane or internal lining of the body is thoroughly medicated, soothed, disinfected of germ matter, and the soreness healed.

We have a remedy prepared from the prescription of a physician who for thirty years studied and made Catarrh a specialty and whose record of success was a cure in every case where his treatment was followed as prescribed. That remedy is Rexall Muc-Tone. We are so positive that it will cure Catarrh in all its various forms, whether acute or chronic, that we promise to return every penny paid for the medicine in every case where it fails to cure or for any reason does not satisfy the user.

We want you to try Rexall Muc-Tone on our recommendation and guarantee. We are right here where you live, and you do not contract any obligation or risk when you try Rexall Muc-Tone on our guarantee. We have Rexall Muc-Tone in two sizes. The prices are 50c and $1.00. Very often the 50c size effects a cure. Of course, in chronic cases a longer treatment is necessary. The average in such instances is three $1.00 bottles. Lytle's Drug Store, Main street.

INDIANA POLITICS

ROBERT G. TUCKER.

Indianapolis, Feb. 15.—It is said that some of the senate Republicans are planning a saloon regulation bill that would regulate, with a high license feature. The Republicans propose, it is said to keep the Proctor-Tomlinson bill in the committee on morals until the time is ripe for it to come out. The Republicans now expect to amend the bill in several ways, the main amendments suggested being: Providing for $1,000 license; restricting saloons to one for each 1,000 or 1,500 people; restoring anti-road-house feature; eliminating county option repeal; providing for license revocation for law violations. The details of the last suggestion have not been agreed upon. Some of the members of the Republican majority in the senate, led by Senator Bowser, believe that the license should be revoked and never issued to the man again for the first law violation. It has been suggested, also that the provision should refer to the location, so that some of the hotel bars of the state where the licensee might have charge of the business, would really obey the law.

It is said that the two Democratic members who have felt the early sting of the gubernatorial race are Representatives Maish of Clinton county and Hill of Bartholomew. Maish, from his own point of view, has made a reputation for being regular, but about 85 per cent of the Democratic members have a different idea. Maish indulged in some lengthy speeches during the debates over the Tomlinson-Proctor bill, in which he tried to convince the Democrats that they were under no obligations to repeal the county local option law. No Republican could have been more vigorous in behalf of county local option than Maish, although the minority members, with few exceptions, felt under party obligations to stand by the law regardless of their personal beliefs. It is being whispered around among the Democratic legislators that Maish is confident that his party will be advocating radical temperance legislation in the next campaign and that his attitude will put him in line for leadership. There are suggestions, also, that some of the "foxy" Anti-Saloon League lobbyists, referred to so fervently by Representative Babcock, former private secretary to Governor Hanly, as the "people's lobby," put Maish wise to the possibility of his becoming a real live one in the gubernatorial race. It is pointed out that the anti-saloon leaders can make such suggestions without fear of dire consequences, as four years must pass before another governor will be elected. Representative Hill's chief claim to distinction, thus far, is a unique speech he made for his bill to abolish the office of state fish and game commissioner. A few minutes after his speech Speaker Honan met him and offered his congratulations. "Just keep up your lick and you'll be a leader when you come back two years hence," said Honan. Still under the spell of his own eloquence, Hill retorted: "Humph! When I run again for office it will be for governor."

It was not necessary for Speaker Honan to commit himself on that matter. He is from Representative Hill's district and naturally would have to be for him.

At this time the chances of the legislature adopting the Indianapolis Merchants' association reform bills providing for a uniform system of accounting in public offices and state inspection of offices, are very slim. The proposition is new to many members, who don't know what their constituents want. The bill would stand a better chance if one party controlled the state politically. With the governor's office in possession of the Democrats, the Republicans are unwilling to give the opposition a chance to build up anything in the semblance of a "machine." The Democrats refuse to acquiesce in the Republican plan, so the bill will fail. Sentiment among the house and senate members is against the enactment of a public utilities law at this session, because there has been very little agitation in the state along that line.

The labor committee has decided to make a divided report on the Bassett employers' liability bill, one of the Democratic platform measures. The majority of the committee will report favoring the passage of the bill and the minority report for indefinite postponement will be signed by Representatives Jay and Switzer, Republicans. Bassett's bill that a labor organization shall not be construed under the law as a trust, also Representative Hay's bill providing that contracts between employer and employee entered into prior to injury shall be binding upon the employee, will be recommended for passage.

A tariff conference will open at Indianapolis tomorrow. Representative business men will speak and all phases of the question will be discussed.

INDIANA SENATE SCENE OF ACTION

Temperance Measures In Upper House This Week.

THE FIGHT IS WAXING WARM

With Opposing Elements Arrayed
Against Each Other in a Strong and Vigorous Lobby, the Battle For Local Option in Indiana Takes on a
New Phase Today—Senate Besieged
by Partisans of Both Propositions, and the Members of the Upper House Will Know No Peace Till the Question Is Out of the Way.

Indianapolis, Feb. 15.—When the legislature was reconvened this afternoon the members knew that the most important week of the session was ahead of them. During the next six days it is expected that the fate of the county local option bill and the measure legalizing Sunday baseball will be determined.

The "liberal" and church elements will clash. Both are stirred deeply, realizing the importance of victory. It was said today that the Anti-Saloon League leaders admit reluctantly that they overlooked their hands in the house, where they counted on breaking into the Democrats for enough votes to keep the Tomlinson-Proctor bill from passing and that they are alarmed greatly over the situation confronting them in the senate. The somewhat ingenious argument was advanced by the anti-saloon lobby among the house Democrats that their platform, while declaring for ward and township local option, did not bind them to stand for repeal of the county unit law. Ten Democrats succumbed to this line of "dope" in the house and several wavered under it for several days before determining finally to stick by the party platform.

Applies to Both Parties.

By what process the anti-saloon lobby proposes to hold the senate Republicans together has not developed, as it is pointed out that if it is true, as they stated to the house Democrats, that the latter's platform did not bind them to repeal the county local option law, the same argument applies to the senate Republicans.

The Republican state convention declared for the county unit, but like the Democratic platform, it did not take a stand in favor of the repeal of any law. Under the circumstances the appeal of the Anti-Saloon Leaguers to the house Democrats is likely to prove a two-edged sword when the bill comes up for passage in the senate.

No one can tell at this time how the fight over the Tomlinson-Proctor bill will terminate. The church always has exercised a tremendous influence over the Indiana legislature. During the last few years its power has increased, as shown in the enactment of the Moore remonstrance and "blind tiger" laws. The latter is practically a dead letter in many places, because it is so drastic that it is not enforced. The Moore law, however, gave the Anti-Saloon League a club with which it has been able to drive out saloons by the hundred.

Petitions For Action.

It is an easy matter to get petitions to the legislature under the direction of the Anti-Saloon League and the ministers. On the other hand, petitions are coming in from the elements that want the law modified. The proposition that is likely to have most weight with many legislators is as to which side is most likely to hold the balance of power in the election two years hence. It will be surprising if the Anti-Saloon League doesn't call for reinforcements from the ranks of white-ribboned crusaders who fairly swarmed the state house during Governor Hanly's little special session. The struggle will be spectacular as well as bitter.

The Anti-Saloon Leaguers will play for delay, as they hope to vote a number of counties "dry" on Feb. 23. The supporters of the repeal bills will insist on immediate action, as they want the bill handed down for final consideration before the end of the week. They will have the co-operation of Lieutenant Governor Hall, who, it is said, believes the bill should be taken up at once.

The Sunday baseball bill is scheduled for a hearing tomorrow. The church element wants to beat it, but is more interested in the Tomlinson-Proctor bill. The chances are about even on the baseball bill. It may have a majority of one or two votes, or it may be defeated by that margin.

Honan Would Stop Oratory.

Speaker Honan singled the oratorically inclined members of the house and announced that he would consider it a favor if some member would introduce a resolution making it a rule of the house to limit the time for speeches. "I know," said the speaker, "that most of your came here with a promise to certain of your constituents that you would make speeches on certain bills, and on that account I have been lenient, because I have been over the same ground myself, but we have work to do. It is perfectly ridiculous to spend an hour's time making speeches about some trifling measure."

LOCAL NEWS

New Castle Courier: The open season for blind tigers is getting "opener."

Ruth Atkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Atkins of Mays, fell from a chair last week and broke her arm.

Dr. John Lee of Indianapolis was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Lee in West First street, Sunday.

The local band boys minstrels will be given in Morristown Wednesday night and a number of highly entertaining features have been added. Quite a number from here will go over on the traction line to see the show.

A merchant's advertising always gives a pretty good clue to his personal faith in his own business—in his own proposition. If that faith is small, is stunted—small and stunted advertising, or none at all, correctly reflects it.

Thomas Kelly, who was connected here with the Ed Crosby store for several years, is now employed with

L. S. Ayres & Co. in Indianapolis, where he has charge of the decorating department. He is a capable young man and an artist of no mean ability.

H. H. Evans, an attorney of New Castle was here today and made arrangements for the postponement of the Snow-Watelsky damage suit that was venued to this court. Mr. Evans will have to go to Hazelton, Pa., to take depositions the first part of next month.

HARPIST FURNISHED MUSIC

At Entertainment Given by Associate Members.

The associate members of the Ladies Musicales royally entertained the active members this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Willard Amos in North Perkins street. Dainty refreshments were served and an excellent musicale program was furnished by Signor Maroni, the harpist of Indianapolis.

KNOCK PROVED A BOOMERANG

H. H. Evans, the prosecutor-elect of Henry county, was here today on legal business in the circuit court. It will be remembered that Mr. Evans is the gentleman of whom it was said that he borrowed a baby for campaign purposes. He believed the story emanated from the camp of the enemy, and if it did, he has them foiled if they attempted to injure him, for his business is better than it ever was since he began the practice of law.

PROMINENT MEN TO BE HEARD HERE

At the Rush County Institute to be Held All During This Week

FIRST PROGRAM GIVEN TODAY

Friday and Saturday's Session in Rushville—Dr. R. A. Craig of Purdue on Popular Subject.

The Rush County Farmers' Institute began with the first session at Carthage today and will continue all this week. The session will be held at Manila Tuesday; at Milroy Wednesday; at Arlington Thursday, and at Rushville Friday and Saturday, the Saturday's session being especially for women.

The State speakers who will furnish most of the program are C. B. Bengiman of Crown Point, Ind.; Thad Snow of Greenfield; T. M. Volger of Hope; Prof. R. A. Craig of Lafayette; and for the women's session, Miss Barry of Jewel City, Kan.; Mrs. Flora Meeks of Parker, Ind., and Mrs. Clara D. Carter of Seymour, Ind.

Dr. R. A. Craig of Purdue University, who will be on the program at Rushville Feb. 19, will talk on the subject in which almost every Rush county farmer is much interested. His topic is "The Prevention of Hog Cholera by Vaccination." The latest experiments with vaccination seem to prove that this will be a solution to the problem of saving the big loss of money every year caused by the death of hogs from this terrible disease. In all probability arrangements will be made to carry on further experiments along this line in Rush county next season under the direction of Dr. Craig.

The program for Tuesday which will be held at Manila is as follows: MORNING—9:30 O'CLOCK.

Song—Amerien.
Invocation—Rev. Jinnett.
How to Succeed with Alfalfa—Thad Snow.

Discussion—R. A. Phillips.
Music.

AFTERNOON—1:00 O'CLOCK.
The Woman on the Farm—Mrs. Carter.

Discussion—Mrs. Laura Leonard.
Hog Management—Thad Snow.

Discussion—T. A. Coleman.
Vocal Duet—Misses Bertie and Mary Arbuckle.

EVENING—7:30 O'CLOCK.
Declamation—Walter Haehl.

Solo—Mary Parish.
Declamation—Cecil Shepler.

We Shall Reap as We Have Sown—Mrs. Carter.

Music—Male Quartette.
Declamation—Carl Miller.

Violin Solo—Herbert Inlow.
Can the Young Farmer of Today

Succeed?—L. M. Vogler.
Music—Male Quartette.

Solo—Mary Parish.

RARE MUSICAL
TREAT IN STORE

For All Who May Attend Union Song Service at Presbyterian Church Tonight.

UNDER DIRECTION OF RAMSAY

Protracted Meetings Closed Yesterday With Fifteen Additions to the Church.

The revival services at the First Presbyterian church closed last night. These meetings have been very helpful to the church and to the community. While the present results in the way of additions to the church have not been as large as they might have been, yet the seed sown during this revival will bear fruit in the future in a great many ways.

The meetings yesterday were very gratifying and fifteen new members were taken into the church, ten of that number being baptized. The meeting yesterday afternoon was well attended and the address by Evangelist Ramsay was highly appreciated by all who heard it, and will long be remembered after the speaker has departed.

Evangelist Ramsay will close his work with the people of Rushville tonight with a song service. The best voices of the city will participate in this service and a rare musical treat is in store for the music-loving public.

SAW EDGES

Our equipment for overcoming rough edges is exactly like that used by the collar makers. The aggravating "saw edges" that many people are worried with are caused sometimes by lack of care on the part of the laundry or (what is more often the case) by poor equipment.

If we may succeed in showing not only that WE CAN do perfect laundering, we shall have accomplished our purpose. If you are not already patronizing us, why not begin today?
